Here are a few tips when using the lessons:

- Every lesson and worksheet is downloadable. Full links to online collection objects and webpages are listed in the “Materials” section.
- The Common Core Standards are listed according to their corresponding Career and College Readiness Anchor Standards for each applicable grade level.
- Questions are typically italicized in the body of the lesson to separate them from their surrounding context.
- Each lesson includes Key Terms that are relevant and used in the lesson. We have included potentially difficult definitions within the body of these lessons.
- Some Extension Activities offer alternative assessments, if necessary. In addition, we have developed the 9/11 FAQ, a basic primer to the history of the World Trade Center, the 9/11 attacks and their perpetrators, and the rebuilding of the site. For K-2 teachers, see Fact Sheet for Early Childhood Learners.

The National September 11 Memorial & Museum thanks the teachers who conceived and developed these lessons, along with all of those involved at their respective organizations for their commitment and dedication in this effort.
